

ROE V. WADE

according to each candidate for Pennsylvania Supreme Court

Anne Covey (R)
Incorrectly decided.

Christine Donohue (D-Endorsed by Planned Parenthood)
I have, and will, use [Roe v. Wade] as a guide when considering cases that raise questions about a person's right to privacy, limiting a woman's right to make unimpeded healthcare choices and other instances that go against the grain of the United States Supreme Court's Roe v. Wade decision.

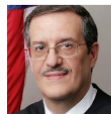

Kevin Dougherty (D-Endorsed by Planned Parenthood)
I personally believe [Roe v. Wade] is settled law, and I support an individual's right to privacy and believe such a right generally protects most individual, personal decisions from government interference.

Mike George (R)
Although I cannot ethically comment on a specific legal question, I am the 8th of 9 children and a practicing Roman Catholic. I personally follow the tenets of my faith.

Judy Olson (R)
As a sitting judge, I do not believe that it is appropriate for me to comment on whether a United States Supreme Court case was properly decided. However, my personal belief is that all life is sacred from conception to natural death.

Paul Panepinto (I)
Incorrectly decided.

David Wecht (D-Endorsed by Planned Parenthood)
Every woman in this nation enjoys an inalienable right to make decisions concerning her personhood, her body, and her health care. This is a right that inheres in the person. It is not a right handed to a woman by the Government as a gift or benefit. It is a right that cannot be taken away.

ROE V. WADE

according to each candidate for Pennsylvania Supreme Court

Anne Covey (R)
Incorrectly decided.

Christine Donohue (D-Endorsed by Planned Parenthood)
I have, and will, use [Roe v. Wade] as a guide when considering cases that raise questions about a person's right to privacy, limiting a woman's right to make unimpeded healthcare choices and other instances that go against the grain of the United States Supreme Court's Roe v. Wade decision.

Kevin Dougherty (D-Endorsed by Planned Parenthood)
I personally believe [Roe v. Wade] is settled law, and I support an individual's right to privacy and believe such a right generally protects most individual, personal decisions from government interference.

Mike George (R)
Although I cannot ethically comment on a specific legal question, I am the 8th of 9 children and a practicing Roman Catholic. I personally follow the tenets of my faith.

Judy Olson (R)
As a sitting judge, I do not believe that it is appropriate for me to comment on whether a United States Supreme Court case was properly decided. However, my personal belief is that all life is sacred from conception to natural death.

Paul Panepinto (I)
Incorrectly decided.

David Wecht (D-Endorsed by Planned Parenthood)
Every woman in this nation enjoys an inalienable right to make decisions concerning her personhood, her body, and her health care. This is a right that inheres in the person. It is not a right handed to a woman by the Government as a gift or benefit. It is a right that cannot be taken away.